THE FIRST WARD SCHOOL .- This fine and tlourishing school had a repetition of their birth-day celchration on last Saturday evening. Under the supervision of their able teacher, Major Roberts, this school has grown to be a cherished institution with the inhabitants of the First Ward. Indeed, so popular has it become that the Board of Trustees were obliged some few months back to increase the accommodations by the addition of another story to the building, and it now looms up the highest and and popularize the public schools, and we should like much to see them extended to other parts of the city. The citizens of the First Ward have just all the stock of the Pacific Railroad, on which incause to be proud of their energetic and efficient teacher, and he has cause of gratulation in the noble and flattering manner in which the patrons of his school have affixed the seal of their approbation to his efforts in the cause of education.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river continues to rise. Last evening there were nearly 7 feet water in the canal and 5 feet on the falls. The accounts which reach us from above lead us to anticipate a sufficient rise to enable boats to ascend the falls. This would be very desirable just at this time, as the Portland avenue has been closed to make some necessary repairs.

"A Shipper" has a communication in regard to regulation established by the board of underwriters on Friday, charging on boats passing through the canal 1/8 per cent. more insurance than on those starting from Portland. If any one feels aggrieved by it, he can reply through our columns on the same terms as "A Shipper." This regulation evidently places only the boats that pass through the canal on an equal footing with those that do not. The latter nearly all belong here, and we think they should be patronized in preference to those from other places

The A. M. Runyan, a splendid boat built this season at Cincinnati for the Nashville and New Orleans trade, arrived yesterday morning with a large cargo, inestly for Cincinnati. As she is too large for the canal, she has to reship at Portland. The John Gault was chartered yesterday to bring her freight up. The Runyan will leave for New Orleans this evening. Her clerk is Mr. Bell, formerly of the Ella, an accommodating gentleman. We thank him for a copy of the manifest.

TO INSURERS AND SHIPPERS.

The interests of the latter have recently induced heavy shipments of produce from the city wharf instead of Portland. This fact has been specially noticed by some stock holders in large boats, who are also very influential in insurance circles. Consequently, at the meeting of what i called the Board of Underwriters, on Friday last, an edic was pronounced "That on all the property shipped on side wheel boats that pass through the canal, destined for New Orleans or intermediate points on the Missisalphiriver, shall be charged 3, of 1 % cent, extra, and on stern-wheel boat X % cent." This they think will compel the shipper- of to bacco, pork, bacon, lard, flour, &c., &c., to submit to the extra expense and inconvenience of sending property to Portland, and shipping on long boats, which are not safer not so fast down stream loaded, not capable of standing a rough weather, nor handle as well, compelled to run black er nights, to keep their proper places in the passenger irade and land at all sort of farm landings to secure a freight tri, in the lower Ohio. Besides all this, they will by this action injure the business of the Louisville boats by exciting at unfriendly feeling among the Cincinnati grocers who ship now very largely on what we call our boats. They are nearly all interested in the Cincinnati insurance offices, and to protect their own interests will be very apt to reciprocal this short-sighted unkindness.

PEACH CROP SAFE—COLD IN THE COUNTRY.

GENTLEMEN: Many of your readers, with the fate of the peach crop for the past two years fresh in memory, are no dount anxious to learn what damage it has sustained in riding through the fat man of size, and snow and in the second with which we have been visited during the resent week; and, as not a few of them are pleased to regard with some respect my opinion in matters pertaining to the orcha d. I have to day mode careful examination of the lower tesule. In a hasty examination of the lower branches next the snow line or surface of the ground one would think the crop pretty well destroyed; but are still found in excess, save that, with one or two yellow varieties, the destruction is greater, if it does not even amount to an entire loss of the crop. Apples and pears are not in a condition to receive injury from any moderate degree of cold; but apricots in the country are all cut off. The temperature in the neighborhood of the city appears to have been much colder than in the city itself. One of Green's standard thermometers be enging to the system of Smithsonian observers stood at day light on Tuesday 10½ degrees below zero at Springdale. STOCK GAMBLING EXCITEMENT IN WALL STPLET. STOCK GAMBLING EXCITEMENT IN WALL STPLET. The whole country seems to have suddenly gone mad about stocks. Wall street is crowded day by day with men who have neglected their own business to gamble in stocks. Merchants, manufacturers, lawyers, and even divines may be seen, either in person or by proxy, thronging the offices of the prominent brokers, and asking, in a feverish state of excitement, whether their orders have been filled? Some of the offices of the brokers are thronged from ten in the morning till four at night, and their fortunate occupants are making, in these times, their two and three thousand dollars a day by commissions.

The secret of this sudden outbreak of the strong gambling mania is of course the general contraction of business, and the abundance of money to lend on stocks. No man who has money to lend at the pres-of business, and the abundance of modey to lend on stocks. No man who has modey to lend at the present time can make four per cent, per annum on it, except in the steck market. There he can lend it at five, six, or seven, on securities; or he can invest it in the purchase of stocks which are in the habit of paying dividends of from five to ten per cent, per annum. This being generally understood, a general rush into Wall street and a general demand for stocks of every kind have been the result; and this we have seen stocks rise thirty per cent, in less than minety days, and promise to rise as much mone yet.

This stock gambling, against which there is such an outery on the part of some people, is an escential feature of our society, and will never disappear. Almost every one who bays stocks in these days makes money, and though it is more than prohible that most of them will lose it before they cease to gamble, still the example is irresistible, and seduces "the very elect." People would be amazed if the brokers of Wall street published their secrets and made known the number of clearymen, professors, lawyers, statesmen, and even ladies who are habitual xamblers in stocks. It is well known that one of the most prominent devines of New England was raised by the fall in Michigan Southera last year, and vainly offered his church to make good his margins; whether there be any clergyman's wife nearer home who, in her day, has, by her speculations in stocks, fluctuated from abundant wealth to pinching poverty, and amazed be unconscious spouse and his admiring congregation by the alternate display of lavish extravagance and mean penury, we shall not at present undertake to decide.—V. WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.
The defeat of the army bill in the Senate to-day is regretted even by its opponents, and Mr. Hale's motion to reconsider the vote, which is now pending, is an indication of it. If Mr. Hale's motion to reconsider does not prevail, it will show conclusively that no bill of any kind—regulars or volunteers— will pass that body. The House Committee on Military Affairs have matured a hill, and will report it as early as possi-ble, raising ave regiments of volunteers. This bill will undoutsedly pass the Honse, but it will never get through the Senate. Unless the administration gets the additional regiments asked for in some shape—either volunteers or otherwise—it will find itself very much embarrassed, and will be compelled to ahandon the Utah expedition. At least I am so informed on high anthority.

The tariff investigating committee are on the track of some persons who figured extensively in the lobby last session, and who received a portion of the $87,000. George Ashman, of Massachusetts, will, if they can find him, be brought before the committee; and it is thought be can throw additional light on that subject. The developments are getting rich. Wolcott threatens to make an expose of the whole transaction; but those who shared in the dis-tribution of the money are urging him to hold out to the bitter end.

AN INTERESTING SCENE. -Mr. C. C. Tracy, agent of the New York Children's Aid Society, arrived in the city yesterday with a cargo of seventy girls and boys and a number of young women seeking employment. The girls and boys were of all ages from three to sixteen years, and were quite as intelligent looking as the average of children of the same age. They were taken to the Western M E. Charge, for distribution, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The church was densely crowded. After prayer by Rev. Mr. Winans, and a brief address by Mr. Tration of the community. No one could keep money about his house in an ordinarily safe place. Many farmers lost considerable snms—frequently the products of their labor for a whole year.

No legal proof could reach the rascals, and about the only resort was for the people to go to "regulating." This they did effectually, and about his population by the removal, by compulsion, of those who were objectionable to the honest portion of its population by the removal, by compulsion, of those who were objectionable to the honest portion of the community. If the Regulators in the northern connties succeed as well as these in Morgan have done, they will have accomplished a good work.—Ind. Jour. MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 1, 1858.

DEATH OF CAPT. SUMMONS,-We learn from our dispatches that Capt. James Blair Summons died at the Spencer House, in Cincinnati, on Sunday morning. Everybody familiar with the history of steamboating in the West is acquainted with either the person or character of Capt. Summons. Even before the application of steam to river navigation he chose the precarious career of a boatman, and has spent his long and eventful life upon the Western aters. He commanded one of the first steamers that ventured to make a trip from New Orleans to the Falls of the Obio at a time when four weeks was thought to be "good time" between the Balize and the rapids of the Ohio, and he was permitted to more than realize his brightest anticipations in regard to steamboat navigation. It is remarkable that he has occupied a captain's position in the mail-line between this city and Cincinnati for a period of thirty-two years, and that throughout his extended career no loat under his command has ever met with a scrious accident. Capt. Summons died as it were "on watch," having made his trips regularly almost to the day of his death, on the steamer Superior, which boat was under his command. He died suddenly from the effects of a cold, which he contracted while ou duty. The announcement of Capt. Summon's death will touch many manly hearts with sadness, for his fame was universal throughout the country. Capt. Summons was a man of great energy and integrity of character, was beloved by many and respected by all who knew him. There will be tears in his memory and prayers for his

A MINISTER AND WIFE ARRESTED FOR HIGH-WAY ROBBERY.-The Rev. Samuel Smith, master of the Collegiate School at Clifton, and formerly second master of Bishops' College, England, and his wife, have been arrested for highway robbery and attempted murder. It appears that the wife of Mr. Smith was a Miss Mills, and about nine years ago, before her marriage, numbered among her suitors a Mr. Leach, contractor. The match was broken off, and Mr. Leach married another lady, who died some time since. Mrs. Smith, having ascertained that Mr. Leach had become a widower addressed a letter to him, in which she stated that her husband had recently died, and invited him to renew the intimacy which formerly existed between Aiter several letters had passed, Mr. Leach agreed to meet the lady at Bristol, on Sunday, 31st Janua They met at the Bristol station, and took tickets for Yale, where they slighted, and Mrs. Smith proposed to cross the common to her residence instead of taking the high road. The stationmaster advised against this on account of the darkness of the night, but finding her strenuous, took a lantern and accompanied them to the point from which they would have to cross the common. In short time, the lady professed to have lost the way, and in a few minutes after Mr. Leach was assaulted by a man.

Being a strong man, he, however, got the better of his assailant, and his cries for aid were heard by two of the railroad men, who came np. The assailant was found to be the Rev. Mr. Smith, the hnsband of the 'ady, but he managed to make his escape. The detective force proceeded to the house of Mr. Smith, and arrested the parties. On their track were found a widow's cap and a six-barrel revolver piste', leaded and capped, near the spot where the struggle took place.

In searching the house a parcel containing a shirt, collar, satin scarf, and pocket handkerchief, all marked with Mr. Leach's name, was found.

MAIL ROBBER ARRESTED .- Mr. Prentiss, agent of the Post-Office Department, succeeded last Wednesday in arresting Dr. John D. Walker, postmaster, at Rockford, Tuscarawas county, Ohio, charged with robbing the mail and forging. Dr. Walker is an old man, 65 years of age, and has a large family married and settled around him, and has hither to been highly respected.

Scicide.-On Saturday afternoon, Dr. James H. Moore, a resident of Cynthiana, Ky., was found dead in his room at the Spencer House, in Cincinnati, having swallowed prussic acid the evening before He is said to have been a highly'respectable gentleman. No cause is assigned for the act.

It is said to have been decided in Washington that the first forty-four captains, including the name of Goldsboro; the commanders, including De Camp, and the lieutenants, including Campbell, are to receive the full pay of their ranks.

We publish in another column an article from the Cincinnati Gazette in regard to the consumption of gas. It is a matter of much interest here just now, and the subject has been called up in the city council.

The Butler (Penn.) American of Wednesday

Strange noises in the air, resembling thunder, have been heard at intervals during the last ten days, in various parts of this county. In some places, it is alleged, fiery substances have been seen flying with great velocity, and the concussion was so great as to shake the earth quite perceptioly.

The Washington (Pa.) Commonwealth says that a few evenings since the inhabitants of the northern part of our county were startled by the rolling of apparent distant thunder, which in some places was so violent as to sensibly shake the houses. At Paris a large meteoric ball passed over the village through the heavens and exploded. The same display of fire balls was witnessed at Wellsville across the Ohio, about the same time, accompanied with lond explosions and a sensible shaking of the earth. Many who did not see the meteoric balls thought they were experiencing the reverberations of an earthquake. earthquake.

A gentleman, writing from some Western point, prescribes the following remedy for cold feet: I think I have made the discovery of a remedy for cold feet. Take paper—old newspapers will do—one or two thicknesses, and was round your feet. Then draw on your hose, then your boots. Try it.

Lady Napier has met with a serious loss in the destruction of her wardrobe. While at dinner, a few days since, a fire broke out in her ladyship's dressing-room where were all of her dresses. Before the flames could be extinguished, the whole inflammable matter of flounces, silks, brocade, and muslins were reduced to ashes. The loss in dresses amounts to some $2,500.

WASHINGTON ITEMS .- The special Kansas committee met on Wednesday. The result was much the same as before. Mr. Letcher of Va. was abseut, having gone home sick.

Mr. Harris, the Chairman, stated that he had received two communications from the State Depart-ment, both of which were unimportant, and contained nothing unpublished except the census, which gave the population of oue more county than the printed statements.

Mr. Morrill offered a resolution calling for documents, among them for Walker's letter accepting the Governorship of Kansas, on condition of having control of the U. S. troops, commanded by General printed statements. Harney, and with the express understanding that he was to advocate the submission of the constitu-tion to the people. This resolution called also for all other official Kansas correspondence, not yet transmitted to Congress. It was rejected by a tip wote.

Mr. Walhridge, of Michigan, offered a resolution calling for the record of the Kansas election held on January 4th, and of its votes and returns; also for an authenticated record of the Territorial Legislaan authenticated record of the ferritoria Degistra-tive Committee appointed to investigate election frauds. This, too, was rejected by a tie vote. Mr. Wade, of Ohio, offered a comprehensive resolution proposing an investigation into all the election frauds of Kansas. This was rejected by a tie vote. The only resolution adopted was offered by Mr. Morrill. It called for the statement of Gen. Calhoun, referred to in Senator Green's report, relative to the number of votes in the unorganized counties of Kansas. Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, gave notice that at the next meeting he should offer a resolution to the effect that the committee had got all the information they needed, and should make a majority apport. The gampittee adjourned to Wirdnesday. report. The committee adjourned to Wednesday

It is now said that Minnesots will probably be admitted apart from and before Kansas, it being un-derstood that Senators Sbields and like and the Representatives elect have signified their intention to support the Administration on the Kansas ques-

At the request of Mr. Stock, the Russian Minister, the Secretary of the Navy has ordered Captain Hudson to receive two officers of the Russian Navy on board the steam frigate Niagara, as before, to witness the laying of the Atlantic telegraph cable. The interests of litigants must suffer every year more and more, until the present system is changed, circuit duties imposed on other judges, and this appellate tribunal become a stationary court of last resort. The accumulating business ary court of last resort. The accumulating business cannot be disposed of if the judges are kept in motion on circuit nine months of the year. It is a physical impossibility, and the result of experience during the last five years proves the augmentation to be so great as to amount to a practical denial of justice.

At the birth-day celebration of Washington at Richmond, Gov. Wise introduced the ceremonies of the day in one of his earnest and fervid speeches, the exordium of which was as follows:

Virginia has called the nation, its elders and councillors, her sister States, their Governore, their law-givers and judges, her own people, and all the children of this confederate family of freedom, to assemble, this anniversary birth-day, around the monument she has raised to the memory of that son, whose wisdom, valor, and virtue won the grandest, proudest, and purest of all earthly titles—"Faiher of his Country." In her name I hid you all, all welcome to the gathering around Virginia's monument to Washington. Before that august name feud and faction stand abashed; civil discord bushes into awed sileuce; schisins and sections are subdued and vaulsh—for, in the very naming of that name there is the sweet concord of love, veneration, gratique, affection, duty, patriotism, and self-devotion; in it there is the harmony of peace, and the power only of victorious war, and the spell of order and liberty and law, and the strength and beauty of national union. It typides all that there is and ought to be of goodness and sgreatness and majesty in that country we call 'our country'—the United States of America; and that country is the best type of its father. We will, then, this day, gather together the national affections, and bind them as American fasces around this statue erected by the Mother State to the Father Son. Virginial

Mans are here, but one is absent. The artist, Crawford, has becucalled away! He werked it out of the chay—and shall his own form has gone back to it!—and he madelled "Revolution" the Henry, and "Independence" the deferson, and be cast the equestrian statue, and mounted the Washington on the war-horse, and—laid down hischisel. It was finished—lt was enough, and he was called from his work to meet the great original, the "hero and the sage" himself, in a land of spirits where images are moulded not in clay, and incomments are not "built with hands," and are "eternal in the heavens."

THE EFFECT OF THE AMERICA PEACEFIL ROMEARDMENT OF JAPAN. - While the effect of British and Fiench cannon to open the empire of Chiua to the world remains yet to be seen, it is quite certain that two or three little American weaon the certain that two or three fittle American was pons of peace, with which Commodore Perry quistly bombarded the empire of Japan, are effectually unclosing its hitherto realed doors. It is an old and wise saying that the pen is mightier than the sword; Commodore Perry has given as the data for a new and equally wise saying, that the vidroad and the telegraph are mightier than the cannon. A model railroad, steam engine, and electric telegraph were the weapons with which the Commodore bombarded Japan, and if the news by the last arrival from Europe be true, and there is no reason to doubt it, Japan has been taken by steam and electricity, and that too with both on the stead last electricity, and that too with both on the smallest scale to which they could be reduced. The Japan-ese saw the little model locomotive whiz over its miniature railroad, saw the electric wire open its mouth, and heard it talk, and have, it alpears, come to the conclusion that there is more "go come to the conclusion that there is more "go ahead" in steam and electricity than in powder and ball, and have accordingly sent one of their Prin-ces of the Blood, even Tzi-Kusen, the nephew of the ces of the Blood, even Tzi-Rusen, the nephew of the Emperor of Japan, to the land which steam and electricity drive a-head, and where Japan may learn to go and do likewise. Prince Tzi-Rusen is now on his way here, having, according to report, embarked at Simoda in December last, and it behoves us to give him a fitting reception on his arrival. A Turkish Admiral is good, but a Prince of Japan is better, for Turkey has seen us on our soil as we are, but Japan has not, and commerce demands that is no small glory for American enterprise that it we should give Japan the precedence of guests. It is no small glory for American enterprise that it has, through Commodore Perry, introduced Japan as the Guest of Europe and this country, and we hope that the effect of the Japanese visit will be to cover the land of Japan with the perfect works of those models of the weapous of peace, with which Commodore Perry first stormed her forts.

The Enemies of Louis Napoleon.—A correspondent of the New York Tribune, who writes himself "A European," says that the secret of the attempts made upon the life of the French Europeor by Italinns, is that Louis Napoleon, while a wanderer, was a sworn member of a secret society known as the Carbonari. This society never forgives a renegation member, and "Louis Napoleon has been tried by the chiefs of the society, formally condemned to death, and received notice of the doom which surely awaits him."

MAKING BUTTER IN WINTER .- An "Old Lady," vriting to the Homestead, says:

I have read in your valuable paper some necipes for making butter in winter. As I have had some experience in that line, I feel disposed to communicate it to you, to make what use of you please.

My practice was to pour the milk, when brought in, into pans, placed where it could get scalding hot without boiling. I then left it over night in a room where it would freeze, and the next morning skimmed or cut off the thick cream. Keeping this frozen until I had enough to churr, I then put the ice-cream into a tin pail, set into a kettle of hot wace-cream into a tin pail, set into a kettle of hot water, stirring the cream until about milk-warm, and, having scalded the churn, poured in the cream, and had good, sweet butter in from ten to fifteen min-

Complaints About Gas .- It is comewhat singular that in most of the leading cities of the United States gas consumers have, for some time tast, used complaining loudly and bitterly because of an unexpected and unaccountable increase in their gas bills. Everywhere, it is said, the greatest economy has been practiced by consumers, but this did not check the accancing tendency in the charges of the gas companies. Down went the lights, and up went the lith. In Chainnait countaints of this character States gas consumers have, for sometime must, beer bills. In Cincinnati, complaints of this character are universal. Nine-tenths of the consumers, we have reason to think, believe they are paying for a great deal more gas than they consume. They can-not be made to believe the consumption increased in proportion to the charges. Neither can they explain the apparent discrepancy.

state of the meters was carefully noted from nonth to month, and the figures were found to agree with those rendered by the company. So far, therefore, as the meters indicate, everything appears to be correct. What then is the matter? There is something wrong. It is useless to deny this. It is something wrong. It is useless to deny this. It is hardly possible that private families and others, without any increase in the number of burners, in spite of every effort to economic, and with the aid of all the modern contrivances, for reducing the of all the modern contrivances, for reducing the flow of gas, could consume from thirty-three to fifty per cent. more gas than in the corres; nding months last year. What, therefore, we rejeat, is the matter? Is there no scientific man among us that can throw light on the subject? Will the gas company favor the public with an explanation? While pausing for a reply, our readers will find the following communication, which we reproduce from the Baltimore American, interesting and instructive:

The complaint of largely increased gas bits for the last quarter is so universal that it is all nonsense on the part of the company to undertake to explain the matter by attributing it to extravagance, or an increased pressure. That will not satisfy me, for I have the lurn-off key in my partor, and only allow sufficient gas to pass to supply the necessary light when the cocks are turned to their full capacity.

the company to undertake to exclain the matter by attributing it to extravaganee, or an increased pressure. That will not satisfy me, for I have the turn-off key in my parlor, and only allow sufficient gas to pass to supply the necessary light when the cocks are turned to taker full capacity. First place, I will state how the public may be defined by a false register of the meter, and, as the company have been charging for the amount of whicky put in the meter, I am inclined to think (unless they have charged the grogeries) profit on it) the fault may be there. I do not profess to be an expert in the manufacturing of gas, or to have a thorough knowledge of the construction of the meters now in general use, but will endeavor to adhere to facts and at the same time try and make the public comprehend the principle I am coming at, although I fear, in the absence of a cut of the principle, I will take the ordinary water-wheel with boxes: Suppose we wish to ascertain how much water will pass by the unmber of revolutions; to do so, we must know the contents of each box, and therefore the quantity discbarged by one revolutions; to do so, we must know the contents of each box, and therefore the quantity discbarged by one revolutions within a certain lime, and allowing each box to be full, we readily find the quantity of water that that passed as will be indeated by the index. Now, suppose the company, or their agents, Instead of only filling the meter to the proper point, so as to get the full capacity of the gas box; they fill the meter with the grog (paving a big profit) to a point that will reduce the capacity of the gas box; they fill the meter with the grog (paving a big profit) to a point hat will reduce the capacity of the gas box; they fill the meter with the grog (paving a big profit) to a point in performed, and just one-half the sac bay speced, as will be shown by the index as with the water-wheel.

THE HOLLAND PATENT.—Nearly one-half of that portion of this State known as Wostern New York, the richest in agricultural wealth, is owned under titles derived from a company of Dutch capitalists, known as the Holland Land Company, the title to which has heretefere been regarded as beyond all dispute. But proceedings have already been commenced in the courts of this State, and will be soon brought to trivit, which involve the title to a considerable quantity of this Company's lands, the authority of one of its agents to dispose of them being disputed. The prosecution is conducted nominally in behalf of two children, residing, we believe, in England, but we understand that among other prominent parties, the Bank of England is interested in the matter. A gentleman of Buffalo is the nominal defendant. Able counsel are engaged on both sides. THE HOLLAND PATENT .- Nearly one-half of that CELLERY CULTURE.—There is, always great demand for celery in our towns and cities at this season of the year. Why do not market gardeners produce a larger supply? One frequent source of difficulty is the failure of the seed, and a consequent lack of plants. Those who do not save their own seed or get it from a neighbar should send to the seed, or get it from a neighbor, should send to the most reliable seedsmen in the country and get a supply by mail. Now is the time to see to this.

Messrs. Joseph Brown and Samuel McGill have established a city dispatch, and intend extending it all over the city. At the principal drug stores they have boxes in which persons wishing to have letters taken to the post office can drop them. The cost of carrying the letters is one cent. They have stamps to put on them, which are for sale at the drug stores. They also carry letters to any portion of the city for two eents. This will be a great convenience to our citizens, and they should by all means avail themselves of it.

HALIFAX, Feb. 28. The wife of Captain Curtis, of the Leander, was among the lost. The captain and 11 others were saved by the steamer.

In the House of Commons, Sir George Grey said that the evidence offered by the French Government of the complicity of Mazzini, Ledru Rollin, and others in Pianori's attempt to assassinate the Emperor being deemed insufficient, the B:itish Government has declined to interfere.

Lord Palmerston explained the Indian bill. It proposes a council of eight persons—two going out in rotatiou every two years; the president to be one of the secretaries of State. No action.

France.—Marshal Waillant, Minister of War, has resigned and in the besucceeded by General Neil. Walewski is to go as Ambassador to London. Persigny is to return to France and take a seat in the privy council. Pellissier is expected to be appoint.

The money market was decidedly easier. The Bank of England has reduced the rates of discount to 3 per cent. The bullion in the bank has increased £780,000 during the week. Consols quoted at 96@96%.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. The Speaker of the House has signed the necessary papers for transferring Walcott, the recusant witness now in jail, to the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, to be dealt with by the crininal court under the law of Congress prescribing pains and penalties in such cases in the event of

The Union of this morning, in replying to what it calls a temperate protest of the Richmond Enquirer against the admission of Kansas as a party issue, says it is no part of our purpose to discuss the propriety or impropriety of holding those Democrats who oppose the admission to account and to enforce against them edicts of excommunication. We hold no dictatorial office of the kind. We are entrusted with no such power. We claim simply the right to discuss matters, to weigh all the facts of the case, and state the conclusions of fair and candid judgment upon them. The position of the President and the strong array of Democratic Senators and members of Congress on his side for admission are facts which go out to the people for precisely what they which go out to the people for precisely what they are worth. They are not conclusive; they do not bind the party, though we insist they are entitled to great weight with every Democrat who is called upon to form a judgment upon the question whether the admission of Kansas is or not a party measure. The Union then argues upon the record and the merits of the case. It finds ample testimony by which to claim party allegiance to the measure for admission. The Union says the Executive has done his whole duty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. Henry A. Washington, late Professor of History in the William and Mary College of Virginia, and editor of the Jefferson papers, was accidentally killed this afternoon by a discharge of an air gun at his residence near this city.

New York, March 1. The bark Alice Hence, for Cienfuegos, was total-y lost on January, 23d, having struck on Providencia reef; her crew were saved; the cargo was also saved in a damaged condition.

NEW YORK, March 1. The Tribune's Utah correspondent states that three prisoners released by the Mormons say that the latter are preparing an expedition to intercept Capt. Marcy on his return from New Mexico and seize his mules and destroy his escort.

Boston, March 1. The steamer America arrived this morning at half-past 8 o'clock. Her mails will be dispatched by the afternoon train due in Philadelphia at noon to-WASHINGTON, March 1.

The position of the Senators from Minnesota apon the Kansas question causes much speculation. Friends of Gen. Shields deny the assertion that he has given his opinion in favor of Lecompton. They maintain he is in perfect harmony with Judge Do las. This will certainly explain the continued lay of action upon the admission of Minnesota.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 1. The steamship Isabel, from Havana, with dates to the 25th ult., has arrived. Max Maretzek and the Philadelphia opera troupe are among the passengers. Gen. Totten is also a passenger. CINCINNATI, March 1.

The steamer Henry A. Jones, bound from Cincinnati to Parkersburg, when near Augusta, Ky., on Saturday night, took fire in the pantry and burned to the water's edge. The boat and cargo were entirely consumed. No lives were lost, but one or two were badly hurned. The boat was valued at $15,000, and was insured in this city for $10,000. Capt. J. Blair Summens, of the steamer Jacob Strader, and for thirty-two years past in the Louisville and Cincinnati mail line trade, died at the Spencer House yesterday of congestion of the lungs. The Loader learns, from Father Desmet, a Catholic missionary, who has spent many years among the Indian tribes on either slope of the Rocky Mountains, that there is a perfectly practicable and easy route north from Salt Lake to the British Possessions. Desmet has traveled the route several times in light wagons and gives it as his conviction if the Mormons leave their present location they will proceed northward to New Caledonia, in British America, and settle at the base of the Portage Mountain. ica, and settle at the base of the Portage Mountain, near the forty-ninth parallel. FROM HALIFAX.-The Halifax Morning Journal of the 19th inst, says:

The starving condition of our fishermen along the coast ought to engage the immediate attention of the government and the legislature. Everything else should give way to this question of life and death, for really it has already come to that. We will only instance the case of one set themen, that death, for really it has already come to that. We will only instance the case of one settlement—that of Turn's Bay, between Prospect and Sambro—where there are many families in absolute destintion of food and clothing. They don't know what it is to have a full meal of victuals. In the last season, with the exception of one man, who made a fortunate haul of mackerel, they caught literally nothing. He has helped his neighbors beyond his means, and now they are penniless, and famine stares them in the face from day to day. Other harbors may not be so totally destitute, but we fear are not much better.

ITALY.—The Sardinian Government has forwarded a note to the King of Naples relative to the affair of the Cagliari through Count Gropello, the Sardinof the Caghari through Count Gropeilo, the Sardin-ian Minister at Naples. This note, through the intervention of the Western powers, is moderate. It discusses the question, but makes no threat against the Neapolitan Government. The Minister for Foreign Affairs has forwarded a circular to the consular agents residing in British possessions, in-structing them as to the formalities they are infuture to the respective respective.

to use respecting passports:
The Salerno correspondent of the London Times, writing respecting the trial of parties implicated in the Cagliari affair, thus describes the terrible in-humanities practised by the Italian authorities even upon the witnesses. His letter is dated Feb-humanities practised by the Italian authorities even upon the witnesses. His letter is dated February 3d:

The trial was resumed on Monday morning, and as these first days are occupied with the examination of the passengers and the crew of the Cagliari, the president always waits for the appearance of Her Britannic Majesty's acting consul and the Sardinian consul. Watt was again reported ill; he would not come except by force, and this the acting consul would not permit to be used, for fear of driving him into frenzy. In fact, he is in a state of mental agitation bordering on madness, and since the commencement of the trial has not slept at night, but walks his room in much excitement. At the commencement of the proceedings, Signor Lauria demanded that five of the passengers liberated as innocent some two mouths since might be permitted to appear in court; their evidence was of great value to the defense. They were now waiting instructions at Genoa. The Procureur General made no objection, and the demand was granted. Signor di Francesca, another advocate for the defense of the captain and crew of the Cagliari, then demanded that a diary of all the events which had occurred since the Cagliari left Genoa. liari, then demanded that a diary of all the events which had occurred since the Cagliari left Genoa, and which diary was found on the body of one of the dead, should be shown to Nicotera in order to the dead, should be shown to Nicotera in order to verify the handwriting.

This was deemed of great importance, for the general belief is that the diary was found on the body of Pisacane, and that its details contain a full exculpation of the captain and crew of the Cagliari, thus, in fact, nullifying the indictment against them and rendering void the confiscation of the Cagliari. The request was immediately rejected by the Procureur-General. The judges retired to consider, and shortly after returned and announced that, by a majority of six votes, the request had been rejected. Fifteen of the passengers of the vessel were then Fifteen of the passengers of the vessel were then called in succession to hear their depositions read, and each was asked separately whether he had anyand each was asked separately whether he had anything to add or correct. Every one protested against being styled "thieves" (ladri) by the Procureur-General, adding that their own government would give them characters. Every one protested, too, against the barbarous treatment which he had received and the acts of robbery perpetrated upon the whole. Achille Peruggi said: "I protest against the first deposition which was read, for when I made it I was more dead than alive.

"I protest, too, against the barbarities exercised upon us; we were robbed even of our shirts and shoes, were beaten with hatchets, and in Sanza 27 of my companions after surrender were massacreed in cold blood." President—"You have heard it so said, perhaps." Peruggi—"No: I saw them murdered; I saw their bodies on the ground, and many of those wounded only were rolled over the cliffs, and thus terminated their lives." Giovanni Gagliani, a Milanese student, among other things protested against the atrocities practized against them. ed against the atrocities practised against them. They had been led nothing but their trousers, had been buffeted and some k with axes; and in Padula 35 of their companions and been assassinated in cold blood, after strender. "I saw the acts committed, Signor President. Another word. You bring us down here in carriages—us who are foreigners—to down here in carriages-us who are foreigners 'appagare' (content or impress) the world; it would be better to give us a blanket, for we are lying on strew on the bere ground, and are dying of cold." be better to give us a blanket, for we are lying on straw on the bare ground, and are dying of cold." Procureur General—"You have everything that is right and desirable; besides, speak to the Commissioner." Gaglian—"We have spoken to the Commissioner ourselves several times. Better to give us a blanket to protect us from the cold than send as bare in contract. us here in carriages. Beside we are accomplices like the rest, and we wish to share their fate. As to the barbarities committed, those wounded were rolled over the precipices of the mountains, and so ended the lives of Pisacane, Falcone, and others." Similar evidence was given by others. All, too, united in exculpating the captain and crew of the Cagliari from all part in the conspiracy. There was a manifest eagerness on the part of all to do this, from Baron Nicotera downward. Their declarations were clear, precise, and repeated by several of them many times in such words as these: "We slone are guilty; we compelled the captain and the crew to act under we compelled the captain and the crew to act under our orders; we put them down below, and kept watch over them. The captain was greatly agitated, and suffered much in being deprived of the command of his vessel. He wept, and said he was a ruined man. When Pisacane went down below we heard a shout of joy on his having discovered the cases of arms. Not one of the crew had any knowledge of the par-sicipation in the conspiracy, which began with our taking forcible possession of the vessel." Such is the evidence of one of the officers in command of the expedition, and, up to this day, of 16 of the men

It is entirely of the World's Fair in Paris in competition with the best London and Frencii Chronometers, and also at the World's Fair in New York, and in every instance has received the highest premium for unequalled workmanship and correct time-keeping.

time-keeping.

To our watch department we have secured the services of Mr. Ed. Helwig, of New York. Mr. II. can execute any kind of watch-work fully equal to Jurgensen. Frodsham, Adams, or any of the first London or Swiss makers.

In many fine Watches that are broken, parts are substituted greatly inferior to the original, the customer paying the full price for a perfect place of work. The Watch apparently performs well afterward for a while, but is more imperfect and less valuable than originally.
